Our Theme for 2018 ~ Common Threads Then and Now

Common Threads of Framingham State Alumni

Sports: This year was the 50th Anniversary of the start of Men's sports at Framingham State. It all started with a mostly inexperienced basketball team recruited from the 90 or so men on campus.

What's a sports team without a name and mascot? Thanks to a contest in 1967 by The Gatepost Sports staff, the team was dubbed The Rams. Unoffical team manager Michael Conway '70 had an aborted mission to bring a live ram to the first game. (Thankfully the cage wouldn't fit in his Dad's car.)

Anticipation of a reunion luncheon and ceremony during half-time of a men's basketball game with Fitchburg on January 27 fueled a flurry of reminisces and sharing of scrapbooks among teammates and cheerleaders. Among those at the reunion were: Dick Logan '70, now Chair of the FSU Board of Trustees, and Michael Conway '70, and Susan Duponte Conway '70 who volunteer at Alumni House.

Sewing: Judy Dupuis Fitzgerald '66, our featured speaker at our Annual Meeting on June 2, taught sewing and later worked as a fabric specialist for a mail order company. Adrienne Cost G'73, became a visiting sewing lecturer at FSU. They met through the American Sewing Guild and were instrumental in setting up the Boston Chapter of the American Sewing Guild Scholarship through IAFSA.

Generations: Merrilee Gates Levins '56 reported that three generations, including her freshman granddaughter, attended FSU. Margaret Eagan Cronin '27, past IAFSA president, was involved in the purchase of Alumni House. She is the aunt of our current and former House Chairs, Anne Ferrari-Greenberg '97 and Kathie Flynn

Patterson '74. Dr. Irene Foster '87, G '88 is a Touch the Future Award and Whitney Travel Grant recipient and her daughter Sara Foster '02 was long time IAFSA Treasurer. Dr. Foster gave back by founding a community service scholarship. Meghan Maxfield '98 was a scholarship recipient and now FSU Department Administrative Assistant. Her daughter, Colleen Maxfield '10, IAFSA's Assistant to the Director, works on the scholarship process. There are many other generational connections.

One good party deserves another...

CELEBRATING 100 YEARS

Last July we celebrated the centennial of Alumni House with an after work cocktail party. It was so much fun, we decided to have another one to celebrate the official opening of our Fashion and Design Resource Center. When we repaired, repainted, and refinished the former office, we realized we had great wall space for an exhibit area. At first an informal exhibit was created with paintings by alumni, gathered from the attic and nooks and crannies, together with fashions made and worn by alumni while students. Examples include a 1971 May Day dress, a "Marilyn Monroe" style cocktail dress, and an ensemble made from medical instrument blue wrap. Interns who were Fashion and Comm. Arts majors suggested that we could also help art and fashion students by providing supplies, as they aren't included in their fees. The idea of an art and sewing supplies pantry was born. Alumni House has plenty of closets and one was dedicated as a pantry.

During our Centennial Cocktail Party, Cornelius (Cory) Ortiz '15, dropped by to loan some of his designs for our display. Thanks in part to alumni donors during his junior year, Cory was able to study in Florence, Italy, one of the hubs of the fashion world. That experience, and his talent and drive, helped him place 5th on Project Runway in 2016. Cory took the time to talk about his experiences on Project Runway and the designs he was lending us.

Several students have already made use of the supplies and borrowed some sewing machines, too. There's still more to be done, including cataloging more books that have been donated, adding bookshelves, and adding a dedicated computer and printer and specialized design software.

We decided to celebrate what has been accomplished so far, thanks to donors, and student and alumni volunteers.

Common Threads: A Fashionable Cocktail Party featured a unique live model and art gallery mix of student and alumni creations including an up-close look at Cory's designs. Student designers modeling their fashions mingled among alumni, FSU faculty and staff, and friends. Elise Arsenault '18, fashion merchandising student and entrepreneur, exhibited her wearable artwork shoes, sold under the brand name SOLES.

President's Letter

Dear Alumni,

This year's theme is Common Alumni Threads. The IAFSA board has been working together to plan some exciting Alumni events for the coming season that we can all look forward to, based upon this theme.

We are excited to announce that we are officially opening the Fashion and Design Resource Center with a special event: Common Threads: A Fashionable Cocktail Party, on May 3rd, featuring artwork and fashions by alumni and students with a meet and greet with student designers. Our refreshed exhibits include alumni and student artwork and fashions from yesterday and today.

Framingham State's Alumni Weekend will be the first weekend in June, and it will be filled with fun Alumni activities for everyone to enjoy. IAFSA will continue the tradition of opening up our doors beginning on Friday, June 1st, and all day Saturday, June 2nd, for Alumni to gather and share memories.

You can enjoy light refreshments with classmates while browsing yearbooks, exhibits, and memorabilia at Alumni House. Our featured speaker at our Annual Meeting on June 2, Judy Dupuis Fitzgerald '66, former sewing teacher, and fabric specialist, will talk about her life and career and her common threads and ties to Framingham State and its alumni.

The Garden on the Hill initiative by the Class of 1964 has gotten on to a great start, thanks to donations, Class Gifts, and purchases of commemorative bricks. We encourage you to consider buying a walkway brick symbolizing your ties to Framingham State while supporting the garden. Forms are on our website, alumnihouse.org and at Alumni House. You may also receive a mailing from the Garden Committee.

As we have a lot to look forward to this coming season, and throughout the year, I would like to thank all of you for the continued involvement in IAFSA. Your generosity is the foundation of our ability to assist current students with scholarships and no-interest loans and to continue the legacy of Alumni House while facilitating the bond of past Alumni.

Why provide for the* Amelia Davis Fund?

"If an alumni needs help, then individuals, able to do so, should help. I believe the donation to the Amelia Davis Fund will be used to provide the most good. Knowing someone cares goes a long way."
Patricia Curry '67

Student Feature

"Going to Framingham State University is one of the best decisions I have ever made. If I could turn the clock back three years, I would choose to go to Framingham State University again. At Framingham State University I gained friends for life and got a very good education. I have been a Dorothy Larned International Scholarship recipient for 2 years — the scholarship has helped me with my expenses and I am forever thankful for that."

Carl-Victor Narkestam
Class of 2018

Carl-Victor is from Sweden and kept up with his studies while playing hockey for FSU. He already has a job waiting for him back in Sweden. He loves Boston and plans to keep in touch with his FSU friends and return to the United States as he is able to do so.

He always showed his appreciation for his Larned Scholarship through IAFSA and attends our annual Scholarship and Awards Reception. Polite, hard-working, respectful and appreciative of cultural differences, fluent in English, he is just the kind of student that the founders of the Dorothy Larned Scholarship had in mind to help.

The Amelia Davis Fund Report

Having a good time while doing good

The Amelia Davis Committee does alumni outreach by coordinating penpals and helping make alumni connections. Every year, they mail out over 2000 holiday greeting cards to the older alumni, from class members celebrating their 50th reunion and back. How do they do it? Twenty to 30 volunteers gather at an annual "party" at Alumni House to hand address, stuff, and stamp the cards while enjoying potluck homebaked goodies and sharing memories of their days at Framingham State.

Good times roll on YouTube

This year one volunteer, Francesca Cerutti-Harris '09, assistant director of Framingham Access Television, caught highlights of the annual "card party" for a special holiday segment of their monthly video "magazine", the Framingham Beat. You can see her segment, and our happy volunteers, on YouTube.

Check it out here:

Alumni helping alumni

Thanks to your donations to the Amelia Davis Fund, begun in 1895, every month six alumni who cope with medical and financial challenges are given modest financial assistance to help them meet expenses.The alumni range in age from 56 to 75. A seventh recipient, class of 1989, passed away last summer at the age of 51, due to complications from an operation. One recipient broke her pelvis and the fund provided a mini-bike to help with her rehab.

The Ellen Hyde No-Interest Loan Program – a financial bridge

What do a Sony Vice President, a Project Runway Contestant, and an Assistant District Attorney have in common? They all credit generous alumni and the Ellen Hyde Fund with being instrumental in giving them the financial lift they needed to stay in school and finish their degree work.

This past year the Fund helped nine students, graduate and undergraduates.

Thank you to all who have donated to this much-needed fund! In particular, the Class of 1983 which made a significant class gift.

Join The Garden on the Hill Project!

by Barbara Landry Kasok '64

The Class of '64, along with IAFSA and Framingham State University, are working together to establish The Garden on the Hill to be located along the left side of the Alumni House at 42 Adams Road.

The Garden on the Hill will be a restful welcoming place that includes flowering trees, colorful perennials, a garden path of engraved bricks, a sitting area, and a water feature. All alumni, students, and faculty of Framingham State University can come to this place of serenity to reflect, learn, and relax.

Suzanne Higham '86, owner of Frog Hollow Landscapes, LLC of Georgetown, MA, designed the garden and is working with us to implement three phases by June 2019.

Phase 1: Area cleared and prepped and some plants installed. Phase 2: Plants and trees installed. Phase 3: Bricks or pavers set in the path and sitting area.

The garden is presently being funded by the sale of commemorative bricks. We hope more alumni will consider purchasing a brick to remember their time at Framingham. You might use your own name, the name of a dear friend or deceased classmate, or simply provide a heartfelt quote. There are also opportunities to purchase plants, trees, and other garden materials. Inquire at: office@alumnihouse.org

The Class of '76 has generously contributed to the initial phase of the garden. We hope other classes and individual alumni will join in this exciting endeavor by donating to the garden and/or purchasing garden materials.

We look forward to seeing everyone at the Alumni House on June 1-3, Alumni Weekend, to view Phase 1 of The Garden on the Hill.

Touch the Future Award 2018

Congratulations to Deborah Salois Donovan '72 for receiving the Touch the Future Award! She's not only a mother but also an elementary Special Needs teacher, principal of Wampatuck Elementary School in Scituate, and her present position is principal of the Higashi School in Randolph. Touch the Future Common Threads: Debbie was nominated by Mary Fitzmaurice Penny '61, a previous Touch the Future Award recipient. Debbie Regan Cleveland '73, IAFSA Executive Director, remembers Debbie from when she sang and played folk guitar and would lead their Larned dormmates in sing-a-longs. Songs made popular by Peter, Paul, and Mary were favorites.

Meet Sam Klobucher '19 – Murtaugh Scholarship Recipient

Sam Klobucher '19 is a history major, a film studies minor, and a Dean's List and President's List student. He has Rapid-Onset Dystonia-Parkinsonism (RDP). An extremely rare movement disorder, RDP has left Sam unable to communicate verbally and with limited movement of almost every part of his body.

To move, Sam uses a custom-made blue motorized wheelchair. Attached to it is Sam's Tobii — a voice machine that allows him to communicate with his peers and professors.

A student aide carries his books and helps him traverse the campus. For oral reports, Sam sets up a prerecorded speech and just presses play and his presentation unfolds.

With his love of history, Sam prefers films based on facts. He's particularly interested in 20th century American history. His favorite historical figure is Franklin Delano Roosevelt, the 32nd president. He is past VP of the FSU History Club and a Walk Ambassador and advocate for Easter Seals of Massachusetts.

"Sam is a phenomenal student," notes English Professor Claudia Springer. "… It's a pleasure to have him in my (film study) classes."

Sam says, "Scholarships will help my financial needs of paying for my essential Personal Care Attendants or PCAs who accompany me to class, assist me in the classroom, and help me at home as my scribe for my homework assignments.

"Someday I hope to be a writer for a television show that uses popular culture references and witty dialogue, such as the television show Gilmore Girls*."*

Alumni House Report

We survived another snowy, unpredictable winter, and enthusiastically welcome the signs of spring! As the new House Chair of the Alumni House, I am pleased to be working with Mary Liscombe '70. Her input and expertise have been extremely beneficial.

Moving forward this season, I foresee the house and grounds needing an abundance of TLC following this challenging winter. Fortunately we have hired a new landscaper who can provide the services we need for the Garden on the Hill installation as well as general grounds upkeep.

Additionally, we have been formulating plans to improve the yard near Maynard Road which was damaged by the winter storms and some work done by a tree service hired by Eversource. We are working with the Eversource arborist on new plantings.

In March, we hired a home inspector to provide an evaluation of the Alumni House. He was extremely thorough and provided pictures and a list of all the issues. Asbestos removal, knob and tube wiring, and plumbing and heating are some of the priorities he mentioned. Pictures of all he inspected have been organized and are available to review.

Common Threads: A Fashionable Cocktail Party on May 3rd marks the official opening of the Fashion and Design Resource Center at Alumni House. The Center includes a library, exhibit area, and art and sewing supplies pantry. Thanks to generous alumni and friends, the library and the supplies are growing. Donations are welcome for bookshelves, a dedicated computer, and printer.

Alumni Weekend is scheduled for June 1-3 and initial plantings for the Garden on the Hill should be in bloom.

It is thanks to gifts to Alumni House and Friends of Alumni House that we have been able to do basic repairs and incrementally make updates. With your help this year we can address aging infrastructure. A partial list is below. I invite you to become a member of the Friends of Alumni House, if you have not already. It's also time for current members to renew. See the form in this newsletter. Thank you all for your continued affection and support.

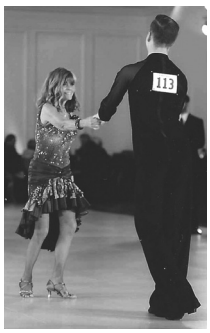
Amazing Grace



An attorney and prosecutor by day, alumna Grace Taylor took up ballroom dancing about two years ago and competes as an amateur. In November she performed at a charity event in Holyoke, MA. Grace shared why she is a fan of IAFSA:

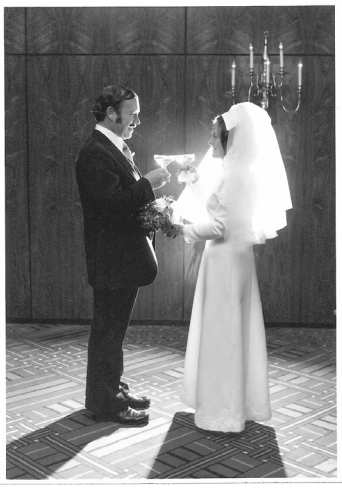
"I believe it was the beginning of my junior year at Framingham University that I completely ran out of money, in spite of working several part time jobs, and faced dropping out. I went to the college's financial aid office and was turned down for any assistance. I was not in a position to borrow any more money from a conventional lender and my family had no financial resources for me whatsoever. I don't remember how I ended up at 42 Adams Road but I know I was listened to and I was helped. If not, I would have left school. My dream was to graduate from college and you helped me to achieve that dream which made all the difference in my life from that point forward."

Wall of Fame & Service to IAFSA Growing

Honoring alumni who have been generous of their time as well as gifts. Plaques honoring service to Alumni and significant donors were unveiled at last year's Annual Meeting. A third plaque lists Friends of Alumni House Benefactors who joined as charter members at the $500.00 level.

This year, those who join the Friends at the new $1,000.00 cornerstone level will be honored with a brick in the Garden on the Hill. Memberships start at $5 for students. See this newsletter or alumnihouse.org for details.

What's a Fashion Collection without a Wedding Gown?



Home Ec Major Roberta Ward Walsh '66 recently donated hers to the collection at Alumni House. She designed and made it for her wedding in 1974. The princess line style is enhanced by Venetian lace that was hand sewn around the hem, bodice, sleeves, and "Juliet" style head piece.

Volunteers

Throughout the year, many people have donated their time to help with the work of IAFSA. This listing includes those who have served on our boards and committees and supported our office in a variety of ways. Their assistance is a valuable contribution that is greatly appreciated.

Volunteer Opportunities

Whether you like to clean, file, organize, address, computerize, inventory, sell on eBay, shred, or weed, we have projects for you! Some projects involve a couple of hours and others are ongoing. Call 508-872-9770 to learn more about volunteer opportunities.

Alumni are the community of Framingham State. Faculty and administration will come and go but alumni are constant and keepers of our memory, history, and spirit.

Edith Brown, long time Sodexo employee and "queen of the lunch room".

Robert R. Devine, economics professor for 34 years at FSU.

Barbara Dias, business office personnel

Eleanor Russell Craig Green '51, a pioneering educator who worked to "mainstream" kids with special needs in the classroom, and was also an author of several memoirs, including bestseller P.S. Your Not Listening.

Susan Walton Jones '61 G '91, a special education teacher for 30 years in the Natick Public Schools.

John Mahon, English professor at FSU

Joan Broadcorens Marsh, professor at FSU for home economics/Family and Consumer Science Department

Louise Whittemore Pickett '39, a home ec teacher, granddaughter of Henry Whittemore (president of Framingham State from 1898-1917), celebrated her 100th birthday in 2017, and long time supporter of IAFSA.

Carl Raimondi, business office personnel

Kathleen Ryan Comiskey Roberts '37, teacher, principal, author of The Secrets of Old Dartmouth and after her retirement fulfilled her belief that a person should give back to their community.

Marie Salvucci, athletics department personnel

And many others who have passed we remember with fondness.

(When we receive notification that an alum or member of the Framingham State Community has passed, we share it with the University. A list is published in their semi-annual magazine.)

Live or have a place on Cape Cod?

Meet up with fellow alumni for lunch, laughter, and engaging programs

The 88-year old Cape Cod Framingham College Club organizes three fun events a year at Cape restaurants. The Club raises money for scholarships intended for FSU students who live on the Cape and Islands through raffles and their annual August silent auction. Contact Kathy Barbieri Tomasetti '70, 508-385-5545 for details.

ALUMNI HOUSE

Email Addresses Needed

We've started publishing interim newsletters — called Alumni House Echoes — on our website. We send out notifications periodically via email so make sure we have your most current email address.

Attention Reunion Planners!

We have records and photos from past reunions.

We welcome your materials in need a place to store them for the future.

Alumni House is available for planning meetings & Alumni Weekend gatherings.

Alumni House is also available for any alumni meet ups and luncheons throughout the year.

We are happy to assist in any needs that arise for the Alumni Relations staff during Alumni Weekend.

All Celebrating Classes are honored guests at our Annual Meeting & Program on Saturday morning.

Each year Celebrating Classes are encouraged to nominate a member for the "Touch the Future" Educator Award.
